Dear Michael,

We wanted to take a moment to thank you for your fabulous presentation to our student body at Conserve School this past month.

We have delayed getting this note off to you because we were collecting data from a survey we had given the students regarding the Healthy Lifestyle Choices Conference. We thought you would appreciate knowing just how much your talk meant to the students. Their comments are attached.

Again, we thank you for your unique style in engaging students in discussions about a sometimes "awkward" topic--and for fitting us into your schedule on short notice.

Sincerely,

Beth Black

Very super cool

Fun, Interesting

Awesome

Very useful, I learned a lot!

I liked the emphasis on asking and the insights into relationships

Excellent and humorous

Sweet!

I liked the emphasis on asking and the insights into relationships

Funny with many ideas

Was a nice intro. Learned that basics of dating and that you should ask before you do something

It was fun

It was interesting

It was a really great introduction, highly entertaining and used us to give the examples he was showing and knew how to talk to us and have it mean something

Very lively and exciting

Excellent

He was great

It was a very interesting approach to us about relationship the dream...

the school...

the future...

I learned some very useful information and was glad to have been able to take the "class"

Mike was a good and friendly person

Great

To be able to ask personal questions and hearing the answers was fun

This was a great presentation. It kept my attention the whole time.

He was great

Good, Fun!

Very informative about relationships and very entertaining

Great orator

Presentation was very interactive and entertaining. Good facts pointed out

I loved how much energy and insight (the presenter-who's name I can't spell) brought to the room

Had good discussion in this session! Great

Learned a lot

Very entertaining as well in addition to a good chance to ask important questions

Good info on relationships

A comfortable way to discuss with a group in a fun environment

Ditto!

Presenter had great ideas to give us and I'm glad he could answer our questions. His perspective seems very caring.
