Dear Mike:

Thank you for your fantastic work with our nearly 300 new freshmen participating in Wildcat Warm-up last weekend. Our program is designed to introduce new students to our campus culture, including our history, traditions and values. Wildcat Warm-up is in our fourth year and you have been with us from the beginning; your presentation has become an integral part of our program's mission.

"Can I Kiss You?" is one of the most highly rated portions of our program for the fourth year running. In fact, an overwhelming majority of our participants this year described your program as "excellent" and many identified it as the "best part of Wildcat Warm-up."

Following are some quotes from students:

- "Mike's presentation provides a fresh and mature way for college age students to look at relationships. His presentation is something that actually appeals to an older crowd so that they can learn without being bored."
- "Mike Domitrz speaks with such energy and enthusiasm that he immediately achieves full audience attention. Every member of his audience knows that his advice and experience, along with a comedic twist, is beneficial and can help strengthen future relationships. I have heard Mike's presentation twice, and it always amazes and inspires me!"
- "I thought Mike had a very important message for young people to hear and he delivered it in a method that was effective and fun. The interactive nature of the presentation kept me entertained and engaged. I think this portion of Wildcat Warm-up is one that definitely needs to be repeated."

We are most appreciative of the energy and thoughtful information you provide to our students in an engaging format. I am confident you have changed many students' perceptions and awareness of sexual assault prevention, healthy relationships and respect. We are pleased you have agreed to speak at our program next year!

Sincerely,

Dear Mike:

Thank you for your fantastic work with our nearly 200 new freshmen participating in Wildcat Warm-up this June. Our program is designed to introduce new students to our campus culture, including our history, traditions and values. Wildcat Warm-up is in our second year and you have been with us from the beginning; your presentation has become an integral part of our program's mission.

"Can I Kiss You?" is one of the most highly rated portions of our program for the second year running. In fact, an overwhelming majority of our participants this year described your program as "excellent" and many identified it as the "best part of Wildcat Warm-up."

Following are some quotes from students:

- "It gave me a whole new perspective on respect."
- "The 'Can I Kiss You?' presentation was informative and fun."
- "'Can I Kiss You?' was my most enjoyable activity because it was informative, educational, serious, and fun all at the same time."
- "'Can I Kiss You?' was the best presentation I've seen in a long time."

Our student counselors are very appreciative of the suggestions and support you offer to help them facilitate small group discussions. I am most impressed with the follow-up you provided to one of this year's participants who disclosed she is a survivor of sexual assault. Your response was immediate, caring and encouraging to both the survivor and her student counselors. You demonstrated congruency in your message and your actions and it was a pleasure to work with a professional speaker who went above and beyond, even after the presentation was complete.

We are most appreciative of the energy and thoughtful information you provide to our students in an engaging format. I am confident you have changed many students' perceptions and awareness of sexual assault prevention, healthy relationships and respect. We are pleased you have agreed to speak at our program next year!

Sincerely,
