Dear Mike,

Thank you for your March 15, 2004, presentation at Louisiana State University. All of the students and staff in attendance (over 250 people) left the "Can I Kiss You?" program impressed with the entertaining nature with which you presented information regarding relationships and sexual assault. It was not your average "No Means No" presentation.

I have received feedback from students, student staff and professional staff members commenting on how educational and entertaining they found the entire event. That is quite a feat to accomplish here at LSU, especially when all of the Department of Residential Life's student staff was required to attend the program for continuing education credit.

The entire event, including the planning process, was seamless from Day One. I truly enjoyed working with you to plan, implement and evaluate this program. I look forward to the possibility of working with you again soon.

Sincerely,
