Mike,

We all truly enjoyed your presentation. I have spoken with several students and they told me that they loved and learned so much from your performance. On a personal note, I thought your technique was amazing and unique. Just as you said in your performance many talk about "no means no", but never explain how to prevent rape. Not only did you discuss the seriousness of the issue by talking about your sister, but left the students with genuine concern for themselves and loved ones. I must say that your show was the best of all our welcome week programs because it addressed real issues and did not censor the truth. So many times speakers neglect to realize that students are adults. They do engage in sexual activity and that miscommunication is also a cause of rape and dating confusion. Thank you again for coming and I have spoken to all my supervisors and encouraged them to invite you back.

Sincerely,
Shanekwa Robinson
